

How does the EU support Member States and Partner Countries on migration?

ACTIONS IN EU MEMBER STATES

Providing operational support including through the European Union Agency for Asylum (EUAA) to ensure fast and efficient asylum procedures

Supporting relocations of people from one EU country to another on a voluntary basis

Funding to improve reception conditions, provide medical care and facilitate integration

ACTIONS ON BORDER MANAGEMENT

Operational support by Frontex on border control, including border surveillance and checks at land, sea and air

Supporting the use of common IT systems and EUROSUR to strengthen situational awareness

Funding for technical infrastructure, equipment, training and expert support

ACTIONS WITH PARTNER COUNTRIES

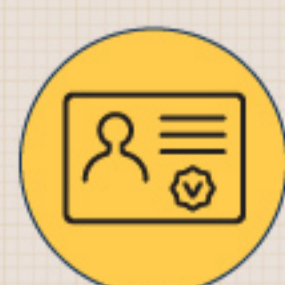

Reinforcing partner countries' capacities on migration management and governance, including management of their borders

Supporting partner countries' capacities to fight against migrant smugglers and human trafficking networks

Protecting refugees and migrants in need of protection, and supporting host countries

Supporting partner countries in building a sustainable return system, cooperation on assisted voluntary returns of third country nationals and reintegration of returnees in their country of origin

Supporting well-managed legal migration pathways, resettlement, complementary legal pathways for protection, labour mobility. Including through Talent Partnerships and building economic opportunities and addressing root causes of irregular migration

