LEGAL MIGRATION AND MOBILITY

Work-related migration

Comprehensive amendments to a number of laws, including the Act Governing the Employment of Foreign Nationals and the Settlement and Residence Act, led to a reform of the Red-White-Red Card, including a lowering of the minimum salary for applicants and the possibility for them to apply from within Austria. A new Registered Seasonal Worker Regulation extended the possibility for certain seasonal workers to obtain a work permit outside the quota system and without a labour market test. A new category of Red-White-Red Card was created for regular workers in tourism, agriculture and forestry. The minimum amount of initial capital for start-up founders was reduced from €50 000 to €30 000. The list of shortage occupations was extended to 68 occupations nationwide. TEMPORARY PROTECTION

Main national developments in relation to temporary protection

Austria adopted the Regulation on Displaced Persons, based on the EU Temporary Protection Directive, granting temporary protection to people displaced from Ukraine. The range of support measures was adapted and expanded, in cooperation with the Austrian Integration Fund. The criteria for legal access to the labour market were defined by a decree issued by the Federal Minister for Labour.

Main measures taken outside the legal framework of the Temporary Protection Directive

Ukrainian nationals whose residence permit was due to expire at the end of February 2022 were offered lawful residence even before the Regulation on Displaced Persons came into force. The decision of the Council of Ministers of 21 December 2022 laid the foundation for the extension of the temporary right of residence for displaced persons in Austria until 4 March 2024. The COVID-19 Entry Regulation 2021 was amended to exempt people entering the country due to military conflict. Austria agreed to take in up to 2 000 displaced Ukrainians from the Republic of Moldova and up to 500 displaced Ukrainians from Poland.

INTERNATIONAL PROTECTION

Legislative and policy developments related to international protection

The Agreement between the Federal State and the Provinces on Basic Care – Article 15(a) Federal Constitutional Act was adapted as part of a supplementary agreement, with certain maximum costs being increased. An amendment to the Regulation on Countries of Origin saw Ukraine removed from the list of safe countries of origin.

MINORS AND OTHER VULNERABLE GROUPS

Minors

A number of measures were put in place to improve the protection and legal status of child refugees. Firstly, a child protection concept was developed by the Federal Agency for Reception and Support Services. Secondly, case workers at the Federal Office for Immigration and Asylum were provided with a checklist to facilitate interviewing of minors. Thirdly, judges at the Federal Administrative Court have access to new guidelines on the best interests of the child in asylum and aliens law. Fourthly, measures were introduced to improve school pupils' language skills. Finally, pupils at all levels of education were made aware of the dangers of the ideologies of inequality and their resilience to radicalisation was strengthened.

INTEGRATION

National integration strategy

The duration of the compulsory orientation and values courses was extended from one day (eight hours) to three days (24 hours). The extended course includes a sensitisation module on antisemitism.

Education and training of adults/ labour market and skills

In partnership with course providers, the Austrian Integration Fund significantly expanded the range of German courses and opportunities to learn German for persons granted asylum, beneficiaries of subsidiary protection and displaced persons from Ukraine. The Austrian Integration Fund also committed to expand the range of German courses further.

CITIZENSHIP AND STATELESSNESS

Acquisition of citizenship

The special right to acquire Austrian citizenship granted to victims of Nazis and their direct descendants was extended to include, under certain circumstances, cases where people were deported or murdered by the Nazi party or authorities of the German Reich or because of their support for the democratic Republic of Austria.

BORDERS, SCHENGEN AND VISAS

Border management

At ministerial level, there were calls for a robust system to protect Austria's external borders, including a discussion of border security fences.

Schengen governance

The existing temporary controls at the borders to Slovenia and Hungary were continued and new temporary border controls were introduced at the border to the Slovak Republic. Austria voted against admitting Romania and Bulgaria to the Schengen Area.

IRREGULAR MIGRATION INCLUDING MIGRANT SMUGGLING

Preventing facilitation of irregular migration ('smuggling') and preventing irregular stay

Austria undertook an information campaign to raise awareness among migrants in countries of origin and transit, on the potential dangers of irregular migration, misinformation spread by smuggling organisations, and the realities and prospects in Europe (such as the low likelihood of being granted protection status).

RETURN AND READMISSION

Main national developments

Austria held a ministerial conference on return issues. Voluntary return to India was encouraged through a short-term special campaign to support voluntary return. Austria also organised Europe's first Frontex charter operation to India.

Cooperation with third countries

The Austrian federal government began negotiating with the Republic of India on an agreement on a comprehensive migration and mobility partnership.

The intention of the agreement was to strengthen cooperation, particularly with regard to information exchange on opportunities for the regular migration of skilled workers, students and researchers as well as their family members and school pupils. Part of the agreement were also the easier access to visas for bona fide business travellers, clear procedures for return and readmission, tackling irregular migration, smuggling and trafficking in human beings.

MIGRATION AND DEVELOPMENT

National actions

The new Three-Year Programme on Austrian Development Policy states that migration and forced displacement are one of three global challenges set to play a pivotal role in shaping activities in the coming years.

STATISTICAL ANNEX

The statistical annex available on the next pages complements the Country Factsheet and provides an overview of the latest available statistics for Austria on aspects of migration and international protection. It was prepared by Eurostat and it is organised in ten thematic sections, including legal residence, temporary protection, asylum, unaccompanied minors, integration, irregular migration, return and visas. The dashboard-like layout of the annex allows comparability across countries as well as simultaneous visualisation of different indicators.

The data presented in the annex were extracted on 8 May 2023, with the exception of data on first-time applicants extracted on 7 June 2023. They cover the period 2019-2022. Since 2022 data were not available at the time of publication for certain datasets, in these cases the period 2019-2021 is covered.

For some indicators, data are rounded at the source. Due to this, in some cases, the sum of percentages or of individual values might not add up to 100 or to the total value.

A 'How to read the statistical annex' guide, describing each individual chart and providing links to the data sources, is available here.

An online data code available under each table/figure can be used to directly access to the most recent data on Eurostat's website.
